

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this manual is to provide participating physicians of Santé Physicians IPA and their office staff with the basic policies and operating procedures as established by Santé the Management Service Organization (MSO) contracted to provide administrative services. Santé updates this manual on a regular basis to remain current with the changes that are part of our managed care environment.

The Administrative Manual is one of three manuals produced by Santé for the offices of our physicians. The other two manuals are our Quality Standards Manual and our Outpatient Best Practices Manual. The Quality Standards Manual contains policies and procedures designed to keep your offices in compliance with state, local, and the National Committee for Quality Assurance (NCQA) regulations and standards. The Outpatient Best Practices Manual contains Best Practice guidelines and utilization parameters which can help physicians improve and streamline the care of their patients. The Outpatient Best Practices Manual also contains the preventative health guidelines our physicians must implement in order to maintain the health of their assigned populations.

Our hope is to provide you and your team with valuable tools as your office works with us in the managed care environment. We welcome your comments and suggestions regarding our products. Santé’s goal is to assist in making your daily operations as streamlined as possible and enhance your ability to function in the managed care environment. Your success will also be our success.

* Types of Practice

An IPA is an Independent Practice Association made up of physicians who are contracted to the entity for the purpose of providing managed medical care. These physicians may be in individual or group practices.

Santé Physicians is an IPA of physicians who are dedicated to form an integrated delivery system. Santé Physicians is composed of a variety of physician practice models:

Sole Practitioner

The individual physician contracts with Santé Physicians and is reimbursed using either a modified Fee-for-Service or a Capitation model.

Group Practice

Two or more physicians who utilize the same Tax ID Number.

(For the purpose of PCP capitation, once the total group has 100 or more combined members, all physicians within the group are reimbursed by capitation, including any non-plan physicians practicing within the group.)

Two types of group practices are:

- ◆ Independent Group – Individual physicians who jointly own their own practice, supply their own internal management, and are contracted as an entity with Santé Physicians. Vision Care is an example of an independent group.
- ◆ Institutional Group – Physicians and other providers (such as Nurse Practitioners) who are employees of a group practice. The assets of the group and non-provider employees are controlled by an institution.

- ◆ Finance
- ◆ Marketing
- ◆ Medical Affairs
- ◆ Practice Management
- ◆ Provider Relations

- ◆ Quality Management
- ◆ Utilization Management
- ◆ Wellness

Serving Santé Physicians as its Management Services Organization, Santé integrates services to provide an important piece in our developing healthcare system. The goal of Santé is to assist members of Santé Physicians in ways that best utilize the managed healthcare system.

About Santé Physicians

Santé Physicians Medical Group, Inc. is a California professional corporation organized as an Independent Practice Association (IPA). The IPA is intended to develop contractual agreements with, and negotiate on behalf of physicians who will provide medical services to patient subscribers or enrollees of programs offered by insurers, Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs), competitive medical plans, and other third party payers.

The Santé Physicians IPA is a physician-owned and primary care-driven network of over 1,500 physicians with a governing Board of Directors made up of both Primary Care and Specialist Physicians. Policies are developed by physician leadership through such committees as Primary Care Advisory, Utilization Management, Quality Improvement, Finance, and Executive Board.

In a managed healthcare system, risk is shared throughout the delivery system. Individual physicians share in the risk assumed by the IPA by accepting fixed capitated payments for medical services. In order for Santé Physicians to provide the services necessary to drive a quality managed care organization, patient care must be managed effectively and efficiently.

MANAGEMENT SERVICE ORGANIZATION (MSO)

* Overview (continued)

How to Make Managed Care Work for You

The previous world of Fee-for-Service healthcare was easy to understand. Today's managed care environment is more complex. However, managed care can benefit both providers and patients when incorporated effectively into physician practice. The following guidelines will assist you in this reimbursement system.

- ◆ Be informed

Our goal is to provide you with all available information and data to help you better understand managed care. The administrative policies in this manual are provided as a guideline for the office to thrive in a managed care environment. Please take advantage of other literature, reports, seminars, and meetings offered by Santé for physicians and office staff. In addition, the Physician Services Team is available to come to your office to provide personal assistance.

- ◆ Provide excellent patient service

The partners in this healthcare system must team up to deliver consistent quality to its patients (members). It is paramount that our care, customer service and communication with patients be consistently excellent. One of the major responsibilities of providers is to guide patients through the new and different world of managed care.

- ◆ Embrace the wellness philosophy of preventive medicine

Unlike Fee-for-Service reimbursement, managed care offers physicians an incentive for keeping patients healthy. Scientific research has indicated that as much as 70% of disease is preventable. We can all benefit by educating our patients regarding healthy lifestyles that reduce critical risk factors. The outcome of this education will be more appropriate utilization of our healthcare system. Santé Physicians invites you to become an integral part of that effort.

Santé Physicians was created by physicians who projected that the enormous growth of managed care across the nation would soon impact central California. Santé Physicians is an organization proactively meeting this changing healthcare marketplace. Santé Physicians, your IPA, is dedicated to making you a part of this system.
